IN 1986, ARKANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY

Around the latter part of August, college students attending Arkansas State University anxiously wait the first day of school. However, a college student's first day of school is vastly different than a high school student's first day of school.

To an ASU student it means just another semester toward his preparation of the real world, and for others it is the final step. To some, it may mean another headache of paying rent and other bills, because the luxury of living at home with their parents who erased their memory of being out on their own. To others, it means rekindling old friendships, pursuing higher goals, and being a part of campus life. But all must admit, that whatever each hopes to achieve during his college experience depends entirely upon him.

The next few pages are pictorial excerpts from the campus experience, whether it is giving blood to the Red Cross, going to a fraternity or sorority dance, eating in Woodlands cafeteria, or studying.

Because of the various growing areas of ASU, it is becoming increasingly recognized as what it has always been; an excellent school, which is under the careful expertise of ASU Presidnet Dr. Eugene Smith and his administration. So, we can say that "ASU is on a roll" (definitely).

Lines is the key word on the first day of classes.

Holly's Book Bus is a familiar sight.

Strolling around campus.

A form of transportation.

Students checking over their schedules.

BECOMES "ASU ON A ROLL" (DEFINITELY)

"How much?"

A pretty face always helps.

"And you owe . . . "

"I'm glad that's over with!"

Getting the campus all spruced up.

Everyone can relate to this.

"Okay, I heard you."

AFTER A HARD DAY OF CLASSES

Flashing that Colgate Smile.

After a hard class, it's time to relax.

Gossip time.

Going home for the weekend.

It's right now, this minute, this second!

STUDENTS TAKE TIME TO RELAX

Watching the world go by.

This guy has all the luck.

After the excitement of the first day of classes fizzles out, the students begin to get into the swing of things. That means studying, chatting with close friends, and just being themselves. It's sort a chance to escape the drudgeries of the real world and glide along. It's a time to put your real reason for going to college off, at least temporarily.

Is she worried or what?

Studying can only increase anxieties.

STUDENTS SHARE COMMON GOAL

Singing those down-home blues.

Double images.

Two folk singers out on the grass.

"Don t you dare!"

Slinging that famous Woodlands Hash.

"Oh, no, another pesky photographer."

QUEST OF HIGHER EDUCATION

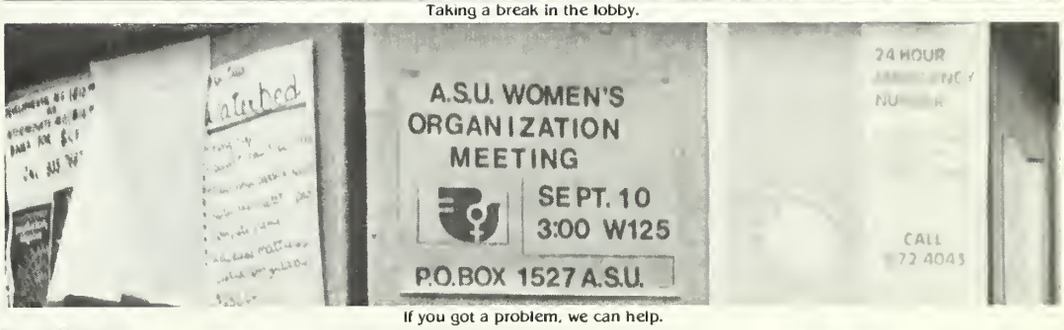

Being among your peers, in which we all share a common goal of higher education, is probably the most important aspect of college life. It really doesn't matter if you share a class with someone from a town you've never heard of because it makes the situation all the more interesting. That's what college life is all about. Being on a roll at ASU is the hodgepodge of it.

Taking a break in the lobby.

"I'm fixing to get out of here!"

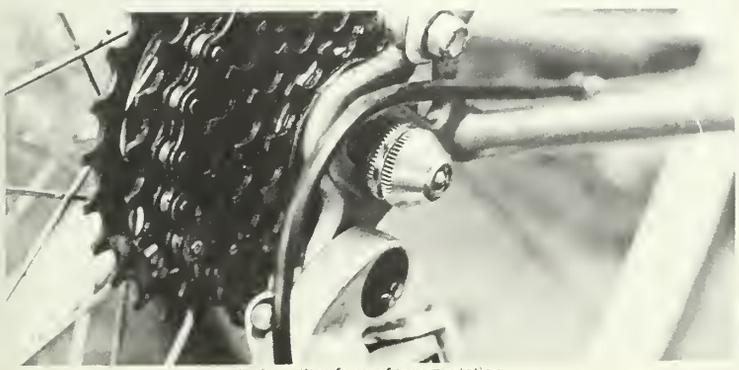

If you got a problem, we can help.

The after effects of a test.

Silhouette of lovers on a fall afternoon.

And another form of transportation.

TAKING IT ALL IN AND

These are scenes of students doing exactly what they do best - being themselves. They use this ability whether it is in front of a camera in the Radio-TV department or working out a new A-Team routine. It can be seen in the eyes of the students as they take time to let everything set in and find out that they along with ASU are on a roll.

Having fun on their way to classes.

A-Team members practice a new routine.

And this is the way it was . . .

A quiet moment of reflection.

ENJOYING THE CAMPUS EXPERIENCE

Getting pictures developed.

Cooling out on his way to class.

And here she is.

Scuba diving maniac.

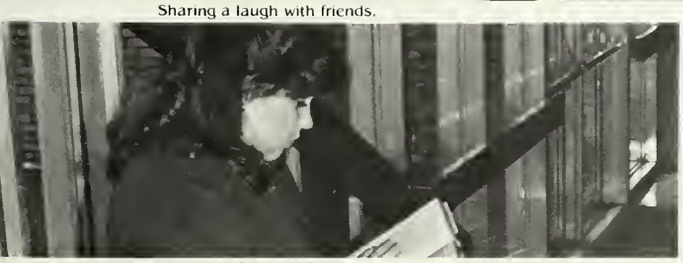

Sharing a laugh with friends.

I don't believe this!

I want to come up!

Studying between classes.

oh, boy!

HOMECOMING WEEK PROVIDES STUDENTS

Showing out during Homecoming Week

"Now, you give blood differently today."

I bet that's good.

Smoking in bed is a no-no.

Too much junk food can kill you!

A nurse checks the blood supply.

"Girl, look!"

WITH GOOD AND BAD TIMES

"What the heck are you playing?"

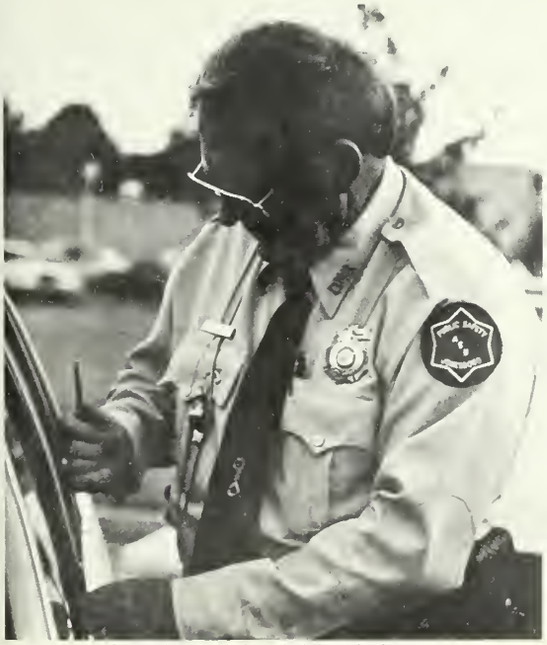

Practice makes perfect.

Taking a break from marching.

A neglected instrument.

Some dummy locked their keys in the car.

The week of Homecoming many students went on about their business as usual. However, for many students it was a busy weekend, in which their small, but important parts made it a perfect weekend, despite the cries of Mother Nature. It included the band rehearsing for their wonderful half-time show, and the Red Cross organizing their annual blood drive. The excitement of homecoming proved to be a stimulant for the students, but unfortunately the wrong kind. There were a few car accidents that got the Campus Security on the move and the Jonesboro fire department was called out to put out a fire in Twin Towers dormitory. But everything eventually worked out well. Turn to the next pages and you'll see just how special it was.

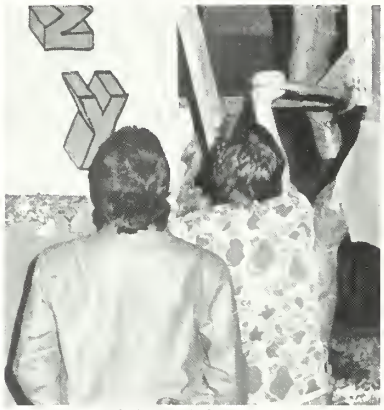

Too much excitement.

HOMECOMING WEEKEND AT ASU.

Pia Zadora cheerleading?

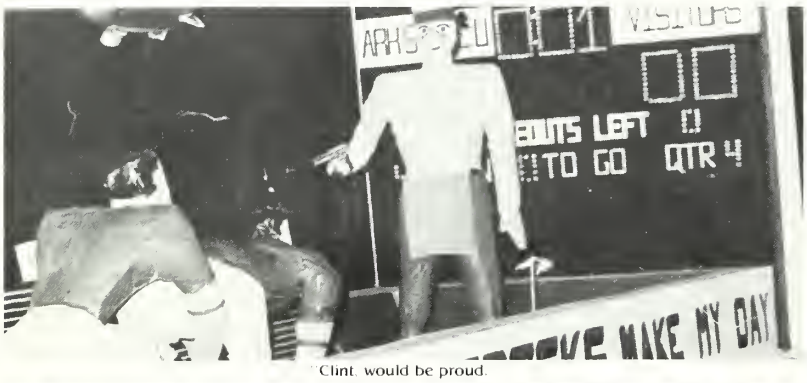

Building their frat house.

"I'm on Beale Street."

"Mums for Sale."

"Clint would be proud.

"He loves me not, he loves me."

Looking for Mr. Goodbar.

Registering the joggers.

"Must've seen a skunk!"

Homecoming Court

Off to the Army

Running for glory.

No mail today.

"Thank God, we skipped!

Alumni Band in action.

"We're on fire."

"I don't believe it."

ASU Inhabitants Taking Time

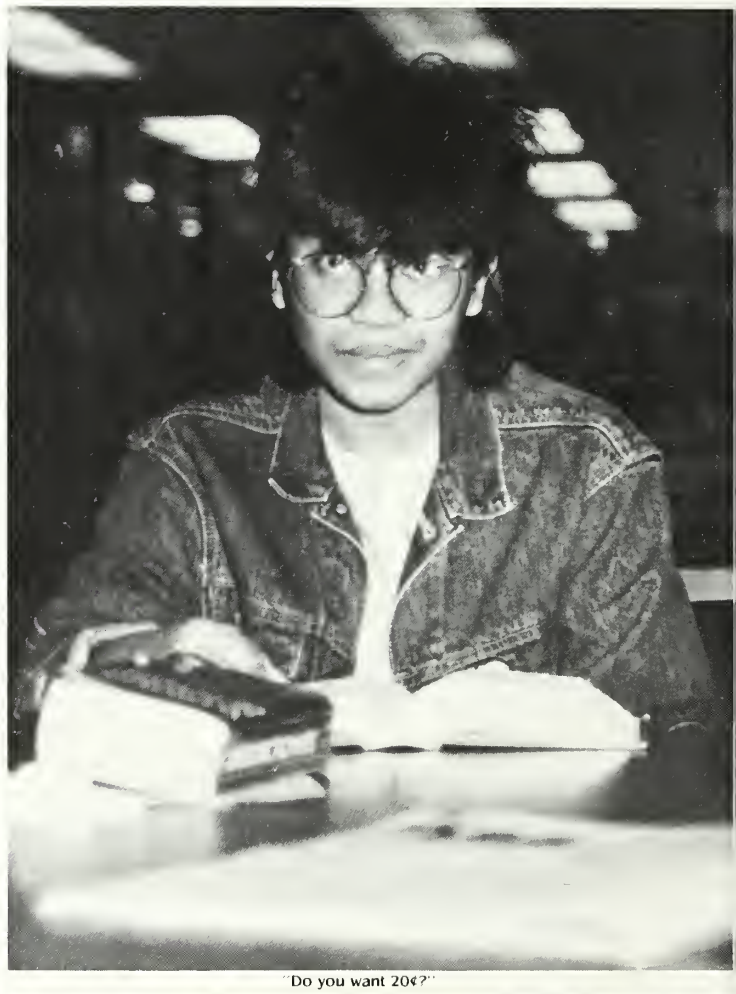

"Go ahead, make my day."

College . . . a barrel of laughs.

Up the down staircase.

"Do you want 20¢?"

"I want Huffman for Physical Science."

To Study and Smile

Checking over their month's bills.

Posing for Mr. Bill.

This photo ensemble represents the true spectrum of campus life at ASU. We're all here watching the kaleidoscope of ASU being on a roll in '86. Right?

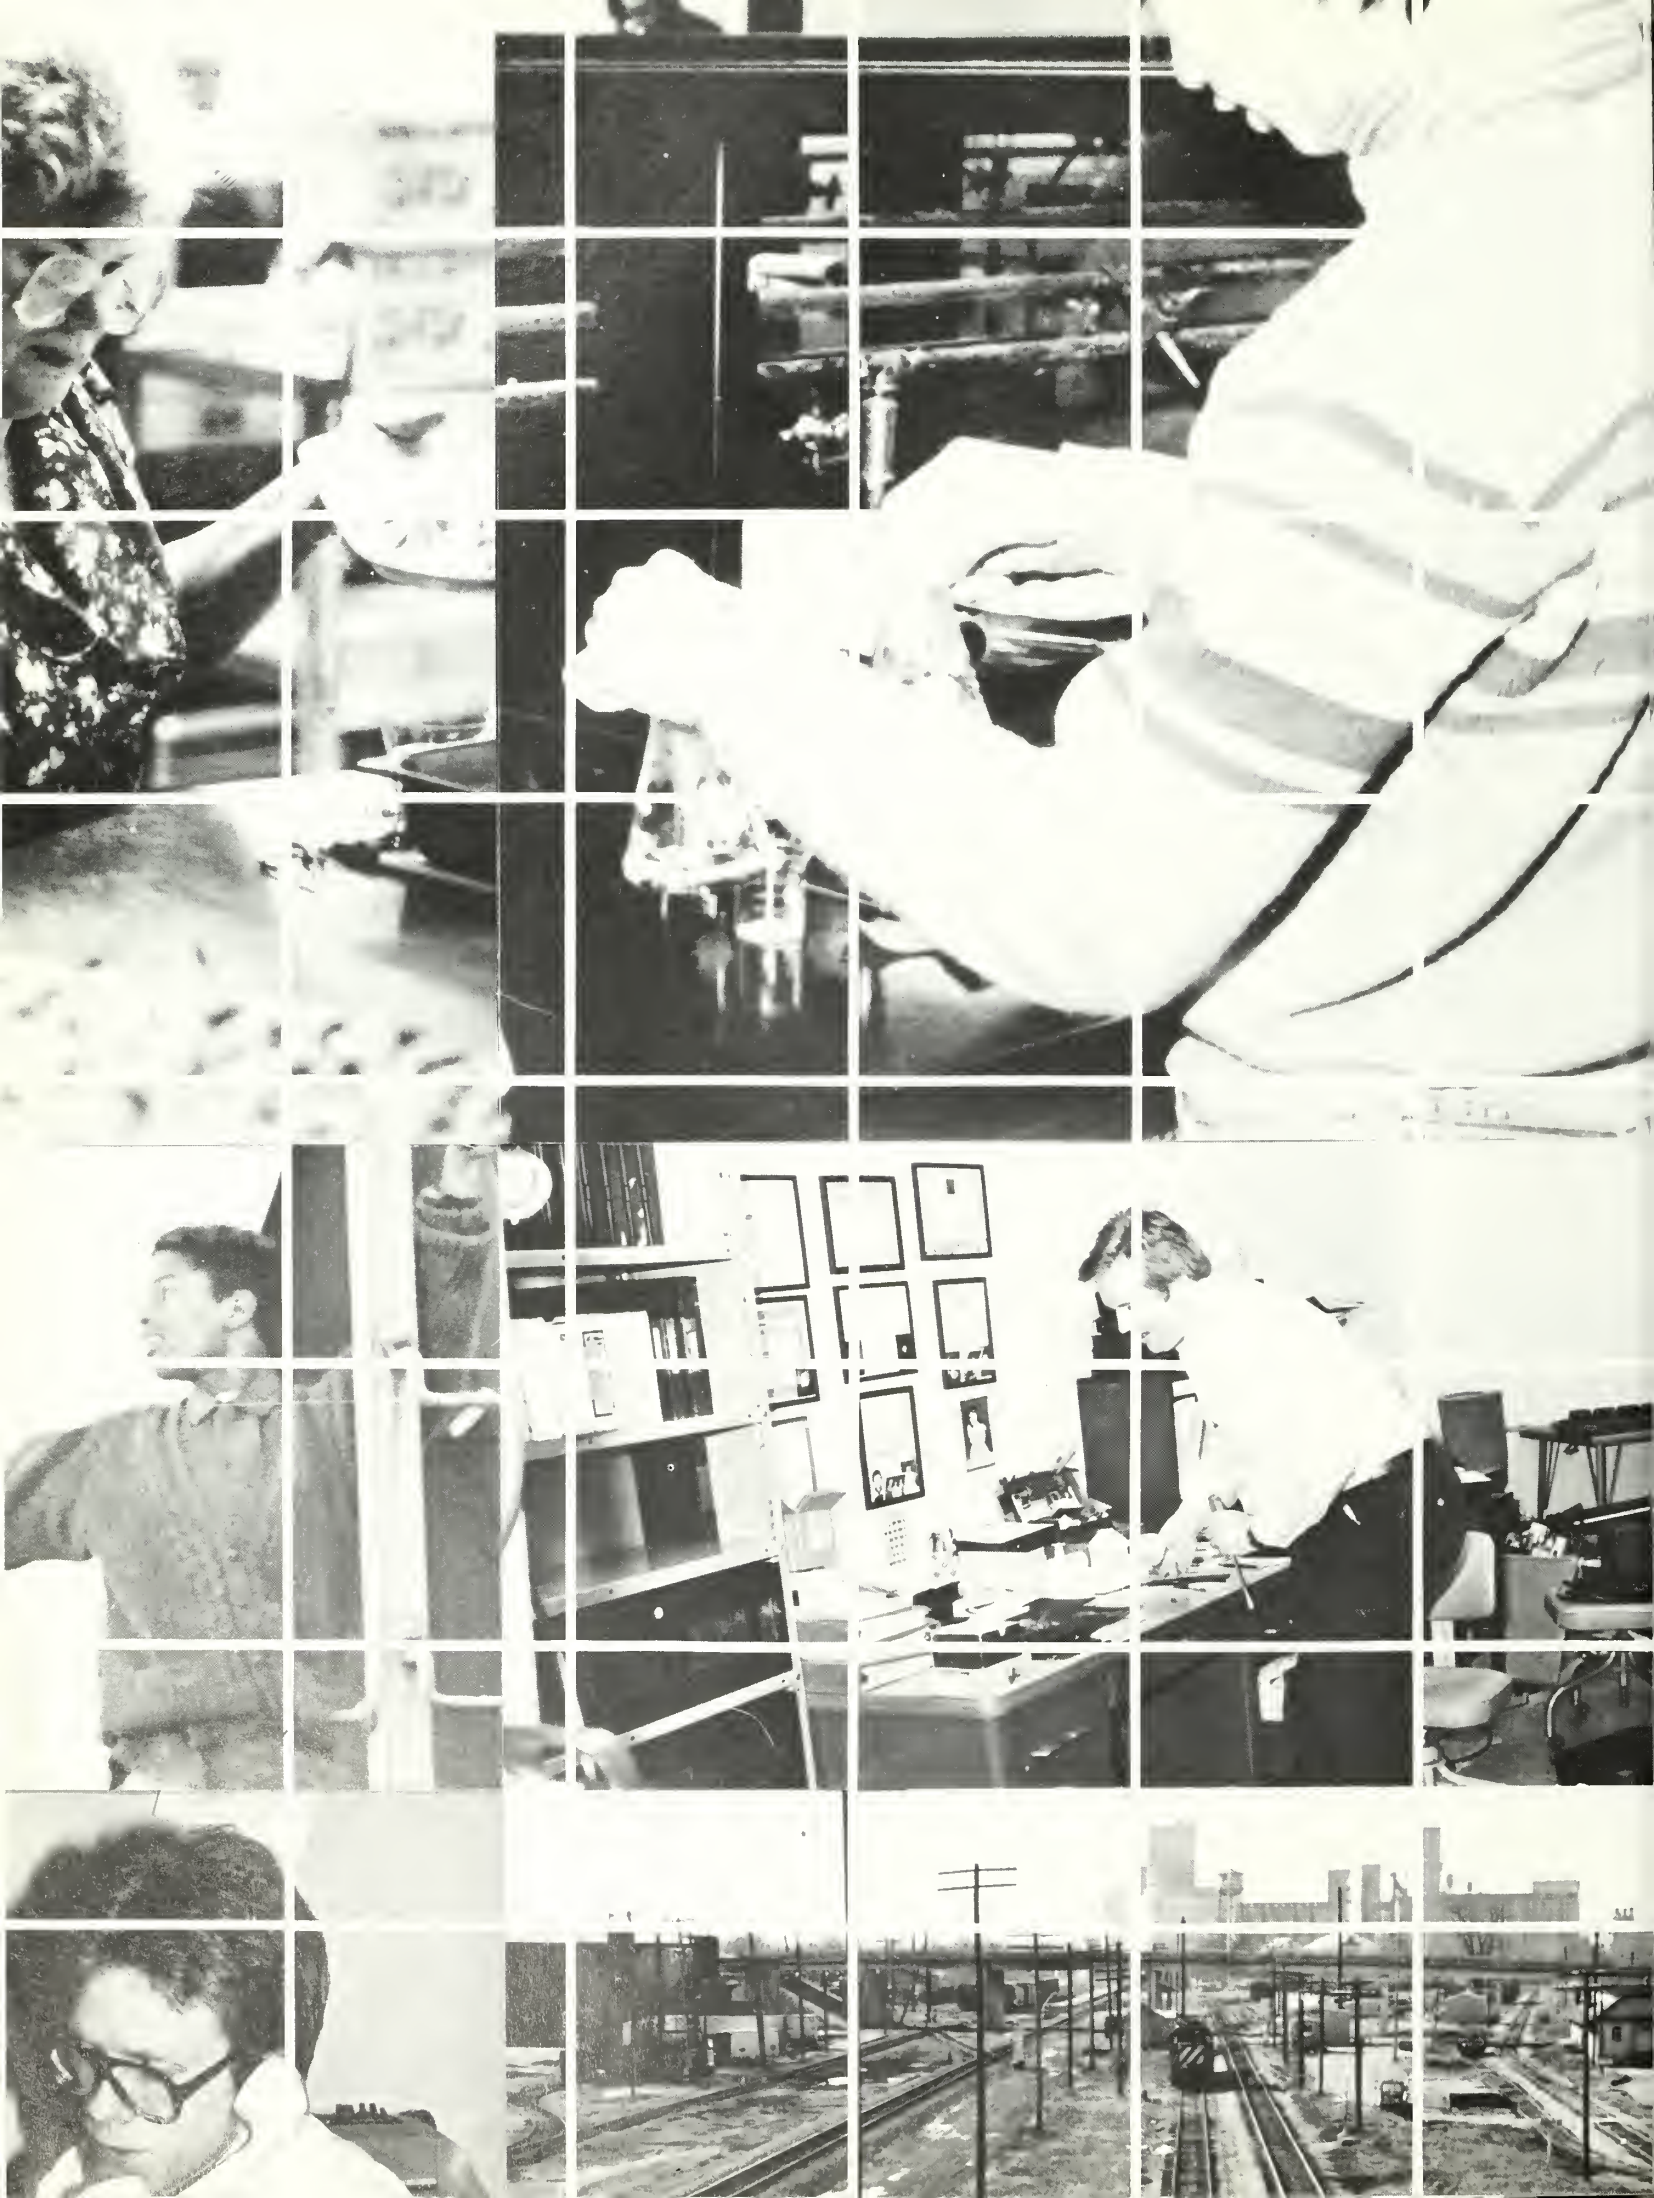

"I guess, I should study."

I really do want to know.

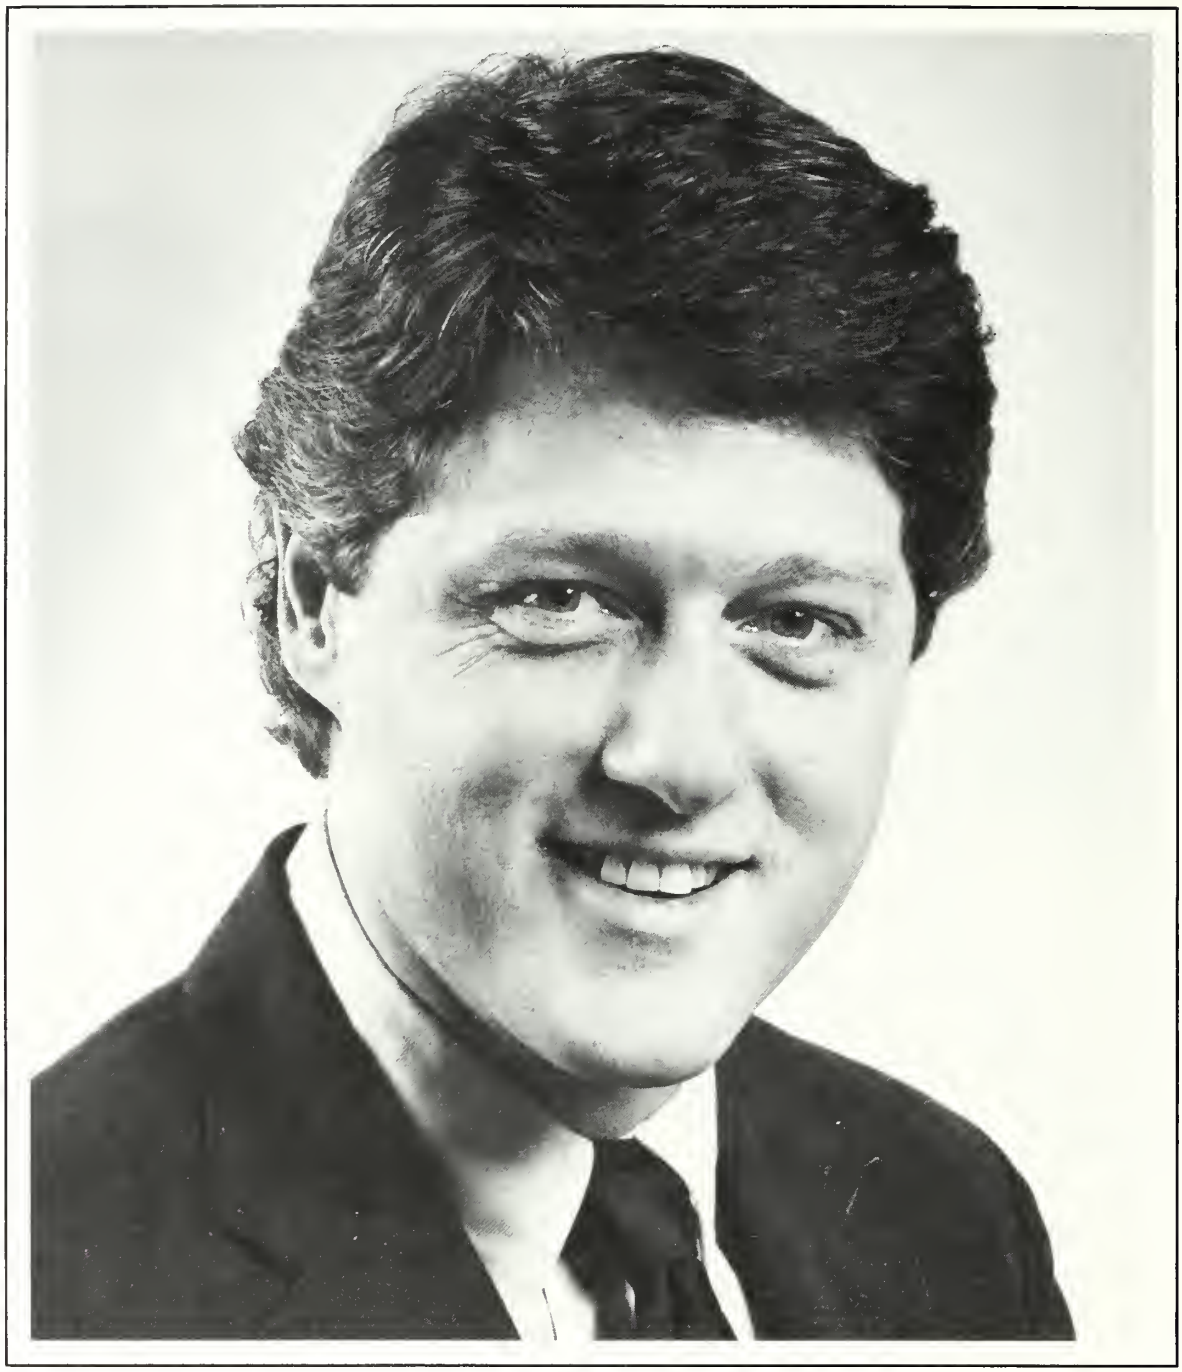

I work hard for the money.

JR. VARSITY CHEERLEADERS AT WORK

"Don t drop me, okay?"

"I'm on a Sure commercial."

Okay, guys, don't worry. This is not a spread on just two girls. These girls just happen to make up the whole jr. varsity cheerleading squad. This shows that quality doesn't come in large quantities. The guys who are their partners didn't want their picture made so that was alright too. These cheerleaders cheered at every home game for the women's basketball team. Thanks.

"So am I!"

"Go A-State!"

"It s hard to smile when you re in this position."

BEHIND THE SCENES FOR SHAKESPEAREAN

A Micheangelo in the making.

Painting the big rock in a big country . . .

The Shakespearean play, "As You Like It" debuted at ASU after a ten-year absence of any Shakespearean play being performed on campus. According to Theresa Mitchell, director of the play, "This is a pastoral play about the pursuit of love. In the play the audience gets to see four different views of love." The play was presented to capacity crowds at 7:30 p.m. on Feb. 26-27 and March 1. Ten years is a long time without Shakespeare, guys.

Stop all the gossip, girl.

Making sure everything looks good.

Keeping all the advertising up to par.

The Herald is the most widely read newspaper on the ASU campus - however, it is the only newspaper on campus. The Herald does do an excellent job with the campus stories and faculty interviews. From the direction of its adviser, Mr. Tommy Mumert, it's headed in the direction of becoming a brother to the New York Times. Just think of the valuable experience everyone is achieving.

VISITOR TO ASU RANGE FROM GOVERNOR

Ray Charles sings "Georgia On My Mind"

Several important people made their trek to ASU this year. Among those were journalist Charlayne-Hunter-Gault, Governor Bill Clinton, and Ray Charles. Clinton came to an ASU basketball game while Hunter spoke on problems in South Africa. Ray Charles gave a concert in early October which was a sellout. We appreciate their coming and sharing with ASU their unique qualities.

WHO'S WHO AT ASU

The Who's Who section of the yearbook is designated to honor the brightest and best students of ASU; but not necessarily in that order. These students are selected from applications based on their leadership ability, scholastic achievement, and community involvement. Applications are open to any junior or senior who has a 2.5 higher GPA.

Last December, the selected students were honored at a banquet held in the Carl R. Reng Center Ballroom. This was made possible by the committee composed of administrators, faculty, and students who reviewed the submitted applications.

Fifty-six were selected from ASU and are among the 1200 honored nation-wide. Congratulations to these students who represent their respective colleges. As the cliche says, "These are our future leaders" only seems fitting. Trite, but true.

COGIC

The Church of God In Christ club is very active throughout the whole school year with Bible Study in the Wesley Foundation, a spring pageant titled "Miss COGIC" and a concert which is held annually in the Reng Center Ballroom.

College Republicans

The College Republicans are of course, for our remaining president, Ronald Reagan. Their chief objective is to convince students that the conservative way is the right way and they also help state representatives and legislatures on their campaigns in trying to influence the student vote.

Left to right, first row: Tammy Sharp, Kim Thompson, Janis Thompson, Barbara Smith, Linda Collosino, Alana Shannon. Second Row: David Paschall, Elizabeth Craig, Debora Craig, Donna Allen, Chris Jester. Third row: Bobby Abbott, Jeff Morgan, Ronnie Montgomery, Ivory Gwin.

Chi Alpha is a national organization of students in higher education who unite to express the personal claims of Jesus Christ to their campus community and call others into their relationship with him. The group is within the mainstream of Pentecostal (charismatic) truth and is under the oversight of the assemblies of God. Chi Alpha takes its name from Christian apostoli, "Christ's sent ones".

Color guard

The Color Guard is yet another phase of the ASU ROTC program.

Left to right, first row: Wade Tate. Second Row: Dion Cantu, Ronald D. Roades, T. J. Gorton, Ronnie Miller, Alvin Stew
Len George.

Council for Exceptional Children

Left to right, first row: Leigha Miller, Laura Pink, Melanie Kelley. Second row: Micheal Harris, Debbie Gary, Dr. Louis Semrau, advisor

The Council for Exceptional Children is an organization that specifically adheres to the handicapped or emotionally disturbed child. Their future occupation will be how to deal with these children in a constantly changing complex world as ours. They will be the ones that help the children adjust to it.

DPMA

The Data Processing Management Association is an organization for students who are interested in the field of computer data processing. With the kind of classes these students go through, they get more than on the job experience. Most of the time you will see these students in the computer center on campus getting the programs done that they were assigned in class. Some people have all the fun.

Left to right, first row: Marry Taylor, Freedia Stewart, Santosh Krishna, Kuan Ching Tze, Supardee Prommasa, Erica Brown. Second row: Connie Sparks, Micheal Holt, Janet Hall, Janet Sutton, Melinda Parker, Donna Pritchard, Angela Henson, Bill McKisson, Leonard Noland, Helena Ruhl, Shelly Ellenburg, Claire Rouse, Lynn Perkins, Dr. Charlotte Hinson, advisor, Marty Van Zant. Third row: Debbie Trotter, Arnold Ray Shaw, Claude West, Micheal Harris, Bernie Simpson, James Cravens.

Engineering Club

These people in this club obviously want to be engineers. That's why they take all those hard engineering courses because they want to be the ones to take the blame if a superstructure falls down. Seriously, these people work hard and they are smart in more than two ways because engineering is one of the best fields to go into today. The money's not bad either.

Forensics Team

This is one organization that has a distinction above the rest. It is nationally ranked as one of the 10 best clubs for impromptu, oratory, debate, and other aspects of a speech tournament. It goes to several tournaments a year such as Lousiana Tech, U of A at Fayetteville, Oklahoma State University, and others. Keep up on the good work, guys!

IEEE

Left to right, first row: Basheer Abu-Jalah, David Moss, Keith Stacy, Garland Martin, Neal Sanders, Lugmann Abi Ahmed. Second row: Mike Slayton, Tracy Smith, Robert Hinson, Joel Presley, Ray Hunter, and Dr. Robert Engelken, Advisor.

The ASU Student Chapter of IEEE (Institute of Electrical Engineers) is part of the quarter million members around the globe making it the largest technical professional engineering society in the world. Student members make up approximately 15 percent of the worldwide membership and is continually growing. This chapter concentrates on giving the students first hand experience in the growing field by having them work on assignments that the real professionals do.

International Students Association

The International Student Association is a club that you can find every - from all corners of the world. At ASU it helps make the foreign students feel at home where they learn most of the American cultures. This is good for the ASU students who live in America because they visit a foreign country simply by listening to the students and it sure beats air fare.

Left to right, first row: Cristina Ferreto J., Jill Dycus, Hoshang Hormasji, Nhu Hguyen, Iqbal Hasan, Edet Frank, Yazdani
Syed, Second Row: Godson Chukwukamadu Okocha, Mohamed Kumail Dehradunwala, Terry Hamilton, Priyanga De Silva, B
Baker, Advisor, Klaus Stute.

Gamma Sigma Sigma

Left to right, first row: Freedia Stewart, Iona Johnson. Second row: Carolyn Thompson, Wyvonia Rutherford.

Gamma Sigma Sigma is a new addition to the ASU campus. It's been around for about three years and has provided special service instructions to its members. Their main purpose is to serve humanity in all the capacities that they can, which includes visiting hospitals, nursing homes, and churches.

Kappa Alpha Psi Sweethearts

The KA Psi Sweethearts, again, like the Alpha Roses, and the Nu Gamma Alpha Ladies, are part of the Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity. They do similar activities such as helping their brothers raise money for the fraternity through car washes, dances, and other forms, while hosting the parties that they have. Now all they need is the Playboy bunny costume.

From Left to Right, first row: Tammy Duckworth, Sheila Aus. Second row: Cynthia Maples, Regina West, Angela Green, Sandra Hobbs, Lisa Jones, and Cynthia Canada.

Livestock Judging Team

One of the most important aspects that this club does is the help judge livestock at the Craighead County Fair. At this time they use their learned expertise in judging the various livestock that run through the gates.

Modern Dance Club

The Modern Dance Club consists of students who are interested in a variety of styles of dance. The different dances performed include tap, ballet, jazz, and aerobics. The club members not only enjoy dancing for fun, but performs on various occasions. If you enjoy dancing, this is the club that will challenge you through your own individualism and creativity through the interpretation of dance.

Third Row: Joe Looney, Tammy Cossey, Misty Parrish, Mike Cooper, Joe Davis, Philip Lauders, Jimmy Gossett, Thurman Cossey, and Thomas Priest.

The Missionary Baptist Student Fellowship is one of the many religious organizations on campus at ASU. It gives students the oppurtunity to experience the Christian lifestyle through weekly Bible studies, church-related activities and other forms of Christian life. They also seek other students in hopes of becoming a member.

MS IV Class And Coordinator

This is another form of ASU ROTC program. This is especially for freshmen who seek an eventual career in the military and also who seek the traits of leadership, discipline, and other attributes the military proudly boast about. Here we see the future general of the supposedly incoming wars, but who wants to talk about wars now?

National Association For Jazz Educators

Left to right, first row: Dick Goss, Tammy Neal, Mr. Bonner Ruff, advisor, Grant Jordan, Kristi Squires. Second row: Gary Poffenbarger, Matt Anderson, Jason Casey, Brett Hackler.

This club is specifically for music education students who want to become jazz educators. They are a rare breed but with one heck of a mission in the palm of their hand. They wish to preserve the American-made sound that is steadily losing ground. After all jazz started with the great men such as Handy, Ellington, and Basie. And we do need someone to carry the torch.

Nu Gamma Alpha Ladies

The Nu Gamma Alpha Ladies are the little ladies that belong to the Nu Gamma Alpha fraternity. Like the Alpha Roses, they support the brothers in their projects and also at most of the football games because most of the members are football players. After all they do need some support after a hard day of practice in the rain, sun, and wind, right?

Left to right, first row: Paula Israel, Barbara Johnson, Baleria Gray, Kim Johnson, and Sandra Dunlap.

Panhellenic Council

The Panhellenhic Council is a club that represents each sorority on campus with a member. Its duty to let sororities know when they are out of line and also has a rule book on the pledging of a sorority, which they help with at the beginning of each semester.

Physical Education Majors Club

The P. E. Majors Club consists of virtually every member of the majors because it is open to everyone. One of the big things that they do is the Special Olympics that is held every spring in which all members participate.

Left to right, first row: Kenny Hubbard, Janet Clark, Liz Oates, Lawanda Ballard. Second Row: Steve Rorex, Kirk Smith, Sheryl Lowery, Karen Anderson, Andrea Alley. Third Row: Clyde Hastings, Gary Green, Sharon Mudfred, Kim Anderson, Carol Rikard. Fourth Row: Jim Montgomery, Melody Cox, Virginia Taylor, Laura Stickler. Fifth Row: Ted Bigger, Vanessa Roberts, Karin Telle, Gia Taylor. Sixth Row: Brett Gibson, Pam Handle, Gary Scott, Scott Miller. Phi Beta Lambda is an organization that is composed up of members who major in business at ASU. Its goal is give students first-hand experience in the business world. They attend lectures from guest speakers and other activities.

Phi Epsilon Kappa

Phi Epsilon Kappa is the honorary physical education majors club. These students must maintain a 3.5 or higher grade point average in order to become a member. We salute you guys.

Left to right, first row: LeWanda Ballard, Carol Rikard, Jill Ross, Kim Anderson, Liz Oates, Karin Telle, Karen Ander
Second row: Kim Campbell, Clyde Hastings, Bill Grogan, Ronnie Harper, Larry Scaife.

Philosophy Club

Left to right, Lerone Wimbley, Dr. Thomas Grimes, Lynda Bauer, Dr. Charles Carr, Beverly Smith, Cora Forrest, Ross Cockburn.

The Philosophy Club is one of the most interesting clubs on campus. The club meets bi-weekly and often has an ASU professor lecture on various topics. One of the most controversial so far was Dr. Greenwald's lecture on "The Existence of God". It serves as a point of stimulation for all students who question the status quo.

Pops Ensemble

The Public Relations Student Society of America is another strong organization on campus. It relies heavily on the input of several public relations personnel that come visit and lecture at their bi-weekly meetings. The group usually goes to several luncheons where they meet other professionals and establish contacts that will later help them when they graduate.

PRSSA

The Public Relations Student Society of America is another strong organization on campus. It relies heavily of the input of several public relations personnel that come visit and lecture at their bi-weekly meetings. The group usually go to several luncheons where they meet other professionals and establish contacts that will later help them when they graduate.

Psi Chi

Psi Chi is the national honor society. It is dedicated to the promotion of the academic excellence and interest in the sciences, particularly psychology. It is one of the many organizations that ASU should be proud of, because throughout all the mediocre the world has to offer, they strive for the best.

Left to right, first row: Wanda Lee, Anaicka Tilghmal, Annette Hil. Second row: Dr. Bob Johnson, advisor, Angela West, Rick Long.

Sigma Alpha Iota

The Sigma Alpha Iota Singers are a select vocal ensemble comprised up of the members of the Epsilon Gamma chapter of SAI. The singers frequently preform for civic and professional organizations, schools and at other SAI functions.

Ranger Platoon

The Ranger Platoon is part of the Military Science Program at ASU and consist of dedicated men to fight for the well-being of our country. At this program the men are trained in infantry tactics that are known across the battlefield and are also taught how to survive in the wild. Who knows? They might be the next Green Berets. John Wayne starred in a movie under that name.

Left to right, first row: Loyd McBride, Wade Tate, Sheila Darby, Mike Ashford, Brian Tate, Davey Sales. Second row: John J. MacPherson, Scott Riggs, Alvin Stewart, Wayne Darr, Rodney Johnson, Robert Newberry. Third Row: Dawn Rene Jenkins, Ronnie Mile, Perry L. Turner, Micheal L. Dunlap, Dion Cantu, Len George. Fourth row: Tony Sullivan, John F. Morse, Ronald D. Roades, T.J. Gorton.

ROTC is the biggest part of the Military Science program at ASU. It is to enhance the future career of someone who wants to go into the army at the end of their graduation. By doing so, if one enters the ROTC program as a freshmen and continues in until they graduate they will be a 2nd Lt. in any camp they wish to stay at.

Sociology Club

The Sociology Club is a club that deals with the social aspects of the community. It is composed up of students who wish to pursue their careers in the social work area. They view lots of films, presentations, and conferences to get the feel for what they are about to enter.

Left to right, first row: James Snead, Melissa Hill, Trena Hyde, Betty Radcliffe. Second row: Sherry Lace, Pat Morris, Donna Bearden, Ronda Piwinski. Third row: Julie Ramdelman, Cindy Rice, Julia Burkhart, Kathey Parr, Barbara Long, Carmen Dunbar.

Student Government Association Staff

The SGA Staff is probably one of the most influential organizations on campus, because the students back it. It has a staff that diligently works hard on the behalf of the students and it shows because the administration and faculty do listen to these future leaders. It is just what it says.

SNEA

The SNEA is part of a nationwide organization which is students who are concerned about the education of America. The Student National Educational Association views and evaluates education on a periodic basis, in addition to attending regional and national conferences.

Tau Beta Sigma

The Twin Towers Dorm Council is a group of men who fight for the better part of their dorm. Their bi-weekly meetings are held as to air gripes about certain aspects of the dorm, such as vandalism. They give an annual Christmas party to the dorm residents and have raised money to make the dorm feel more like home. They have in the past bought ice machines and TVs to help the dorm.

Union Board Coordinators

The Union Board is an administrative office of student volunteers, who provide a university-wide programmed activities. Its role is to provide educational, social, cultural, and recreational programs for the benefit of the university community and to help develop sound student leadership. They also plan major concerts and last year brought the hot Pointer Sisters here. This year they brought Ray Charles and plan to bring Oak Ridge Boys in the spring.

Left to right, first row: Steve Langlois, Tim Dean, Diane Todd. Second row: Rhonda Mynett, Rhonda Stewart, Scott Moye, Petri Dorsey, Ken Welch.

Union Board Members

The Union Board committee members assist the coordinators in any endeavor that they choose. During the first of each semester, the UB office employs a wide campaign to get student volunteers to become members in such activities as the concert committee, the co-curricular committee, and the cultural enrichment committee. They volunteer alot of their time and the UB should be proud.

University Hall Dorm Council

The University Hall Dorm Council is much like the Twin Towers Dorm Council in which they act accordingly to the student wishes. They also employ a Judicial Board to help them sort out problems when a girl is caught sneaking a guy into her room after hours. But that's all in the college life. At any rate, this dorm council is one that is A-okay with its residents.

SHAKESPEAREAN COMEDY COMES BACK

Here we go around the merry-go-round.

Tell me all about it.

I can't find her.

Okay - go on.

The play "As You Like It" was a huge success for the ASU Drama Department. The amount of time spent in rehearsal and making the elaborate costumes was well worth it. It had been a mere ten years since William Shakespeare had graced the ASU theatre. We hope next time it won't be so long.

ASU Girls Volleyball Manages Strong

No. 22 goes for the volley

Look at that form!

Peace, man, peace.

I got it, I got it!"

All this for one ball?

It's always hard to keep your team's morale up during an off-season, but some coaches never have any problem with that. This is the case of Cheryl Buckmeier who manages to pull this off without a hitch. The Lady Indians struggled with a disappointing season record, but nevertheless they are looking toward both a new season and road to begin their climb to their former winning status. The ASU support of the Lady Indians was a big factor in the maintaining of their morale which always help. We know you're good - they just don't.

Springfest '85 Becomes Another Ecstatic

The faithful tug-o-war tests endurance and strength.

What?

A little classical music relaxes the frenzied crowd.

"I want some of that play money!"

"This way, over here you guys!"

Celebration of the Upcoming Spring.

Tug-o-war can even bring you to the ground.

Springfest is the time of the year when professors let their students out of classes at exactly 12 noon. Although, this is unusual in some aspects, it is not to the students. ASU formally begins its own unique celebration of the awakening of spring.

During the day, a fun-run, egg toss, mud volleyball, pie-throwing, eating contests, and special guest performers all accumulate on the campus to share spring with the students. This year, the one and only "Simon Sez" made a special guest appearance through a contract made up by the Union Board and performed for the ecstatic audience and held a prize of over $1,000 for the winner. Even though we had no winner, it was nonetheless a funny experience, and often embarrassing situation for the participants.

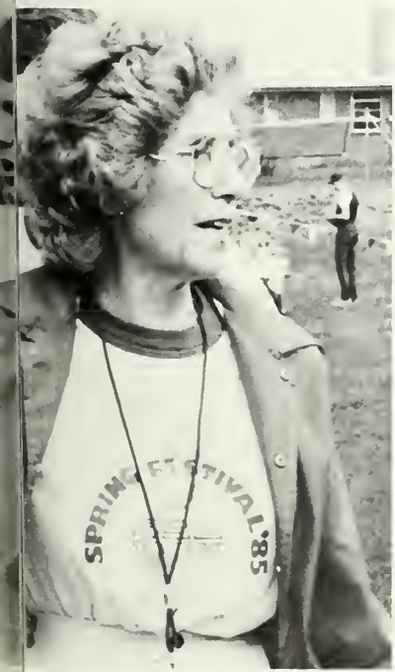

Also, the faculty gets into the act with a night filled with comedy, skits, and other parodies. It was held in Wilson Auditorium and ended the whole day with a bang. And, so we can only hope for an even better Springfest '85 this year.

Season Opener "Hot L Baltimore"

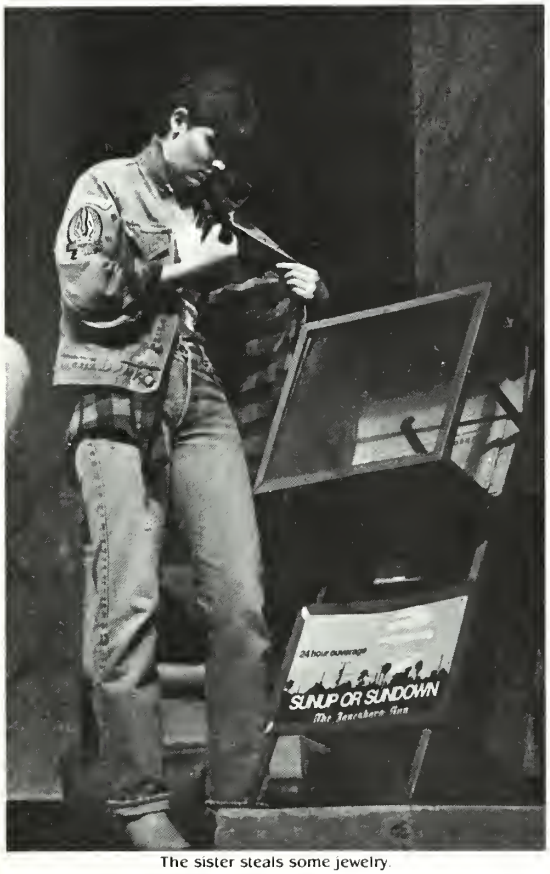

The season opener for the 1985-86 ASU Drama Department was the play "Hot L Baltimore" by Lanford Wilson. It played to somewhat packed audiences for a two-week run in early October at Wilson Auditorium.

The play chronicles the lives of a group of people in a run-down hotel, which is to be torn down in a couple of months. Characters such as a brother and sister buying a farm out in the desert from a radio station advertisement, a prostitute talked into moving in with her pimp, a young man's search for his grandfather, and other idiosyncracies make this play a treat.

After their performances at ASU, the play was submitted to the regional National College Theatre Festival competition held in Little Rock.

A prostitute looks on at a fight between brother and sister.

The sister steals some jewelry.

An old woman slowly descends the stairs.

I wonder where this book goes.

Dean B. Ellis, the pseudonym for ASU's library is indeed the gathering place for all of ASU's studious students. It is open daily from 7:30 a.m. to 12 nightly for the students who work on long overdue research paper, last-minute studying for finals (that's when the place rises from the dead) and on weekends the hours are just a little bit limited. However, not everyone uses the library just for studying. They use it to meet friends and talk and gossip, [illegible] do some studying - maybe five [illegible] of the time they are in there. The ASU Museum, under the direction of Charlott Jones, assistant professor of art, has grown considerably since its beginning. In December it celebrated its 50th anniversary on the ASU campus. Each year at Christmas time, the museum sells toys, wooden crafts, and other trinkets to help with its renting of collections. Recently, the museum had a collection of religious artifacts which was quite a treat. As you can see from the above pictures, this is real pioneer life. As part of the museum's permanent collection, you don't just have to glance at the pictures. You can go see in real life, just like a movie!

It's top secret, man.

Don't look at me that way!

Today, college students do not work just to have money in their pocket. These days, it's a must to work if you want to survive in the world. So determined students go out and seek work anyway they can get it. And, so what if you're slinging hash at McDonald's or staying on your feet four to five hours at Dillard's a night, you won't be doing it all your life. It's just a stepping stone to bigger and better things that await you. But one thing that we all have in common, is the paycheck. How sweet it is!

Wha'd you say?

The Bugle Boys II

The ASU Band and its Flag Corps go through a lot of practice for their half-time show. We see this through their expertise and style shown through their many accomplishment, such as being known as one of the best university bands in the mid-south.

ASU'S P. E. COMPLEX OFFERS

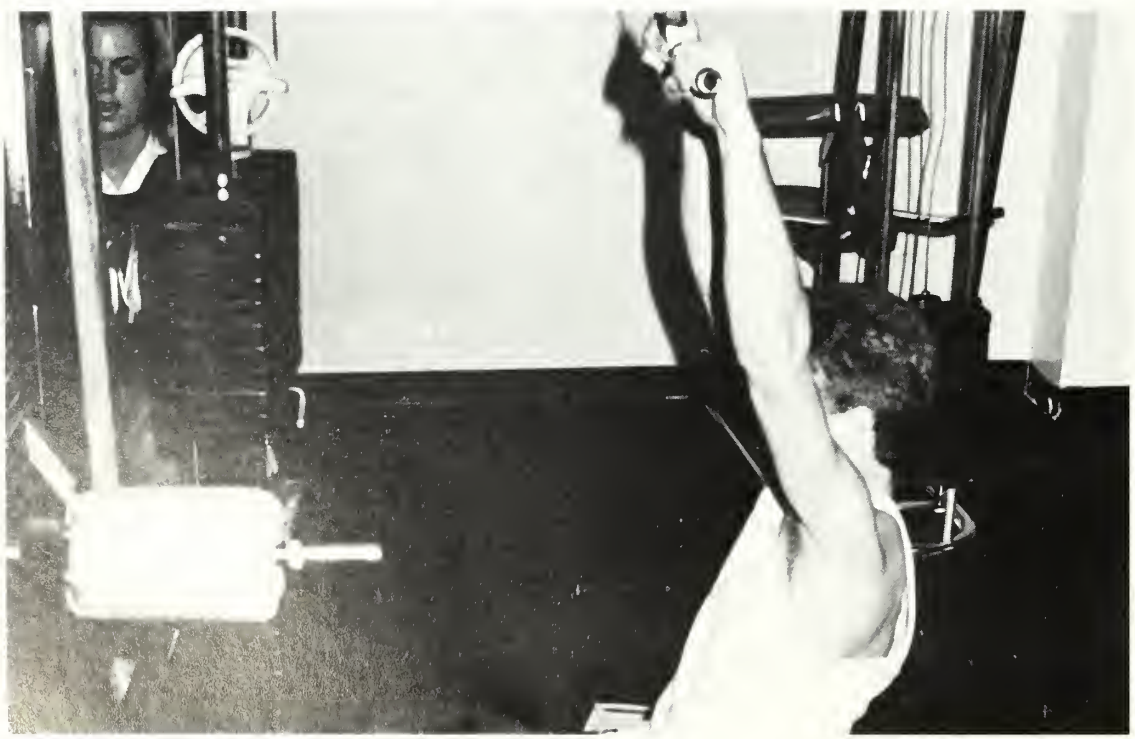

Did I read that right?

"Up and down, pull muscles."

A quartet watching a fun technique.

The agony of weight training.

The Physical Education Complex at ASU offers students a wide variety of sports and recreation to keep themselves fit and in tip-top shape. These include gymnastics, weight training, racquetball, swimming and karate. So these are the ones who would like to grace the ad of the National Diary Association wants their models to look on the "Good Body" commercials.

A WIDE VARIETY OF RECREATION

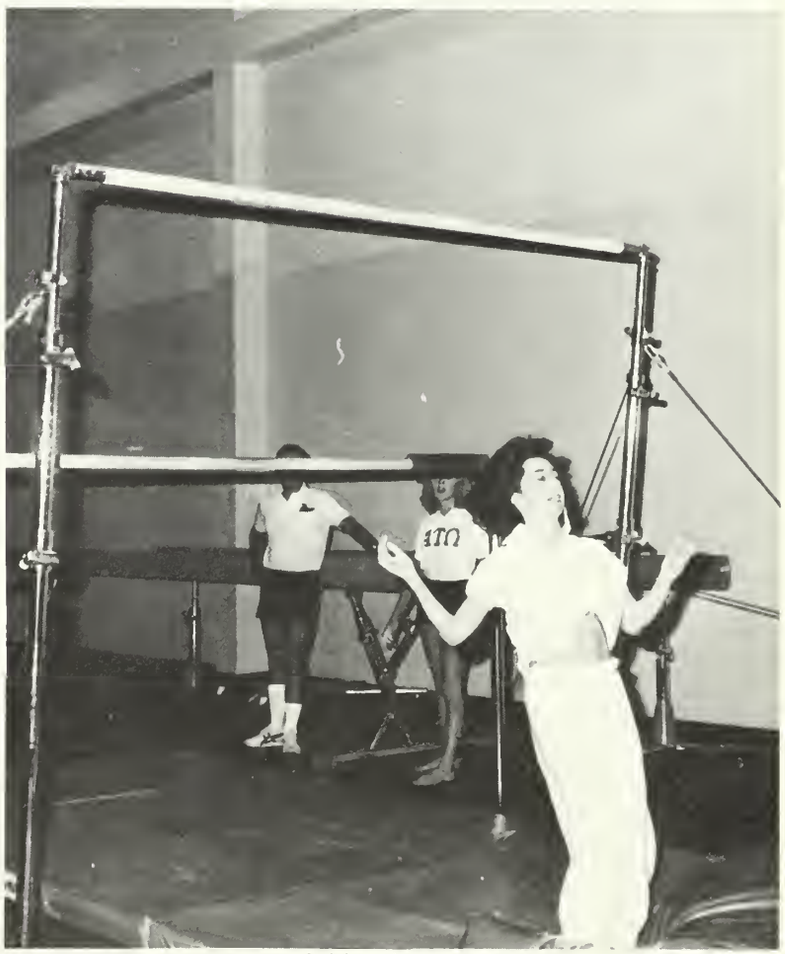

She finally got over.

So did she.

The agony continues for the body builder.

And down she goes.

KARATE AND RACQUETBALL PLAY PARTS IN

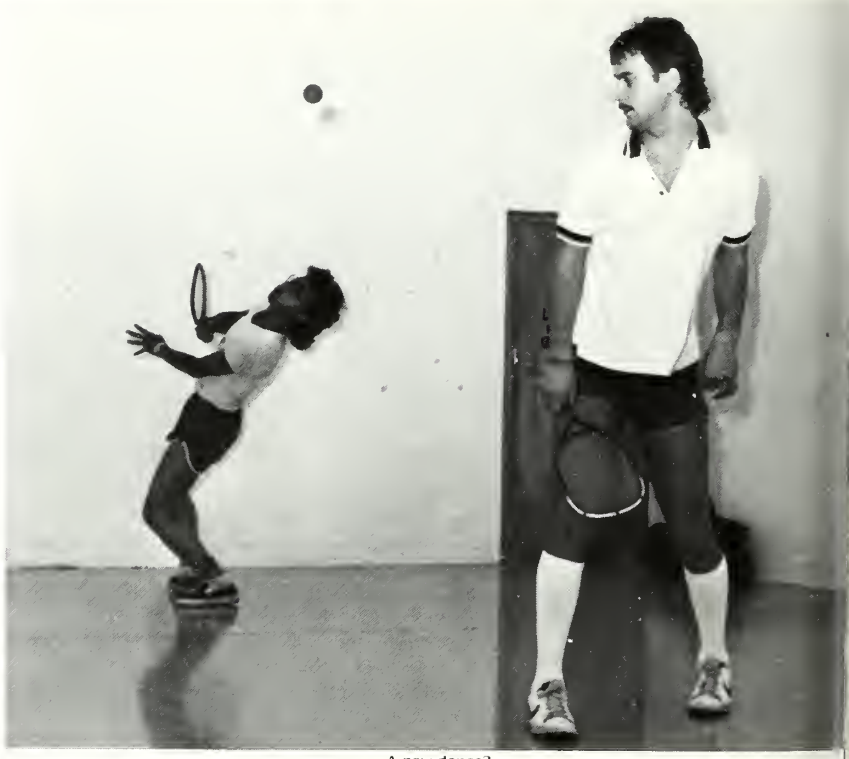

There we go.

Spectator Sport

It s gone man.

A new dance?

The classes of karate and racquetball are pretty exhilirating for the ASU student. Karate teaches the form of self-defense while racquetball builds endurance and strength. Although sometimes the moves of each sport look funny - I wouldn't mess or tell them that.

Perfect form

HELPING STUDENTS STAY FIT

Foot meets hand here today.

See those black belts.

A grand jete, but not the kind in ballet

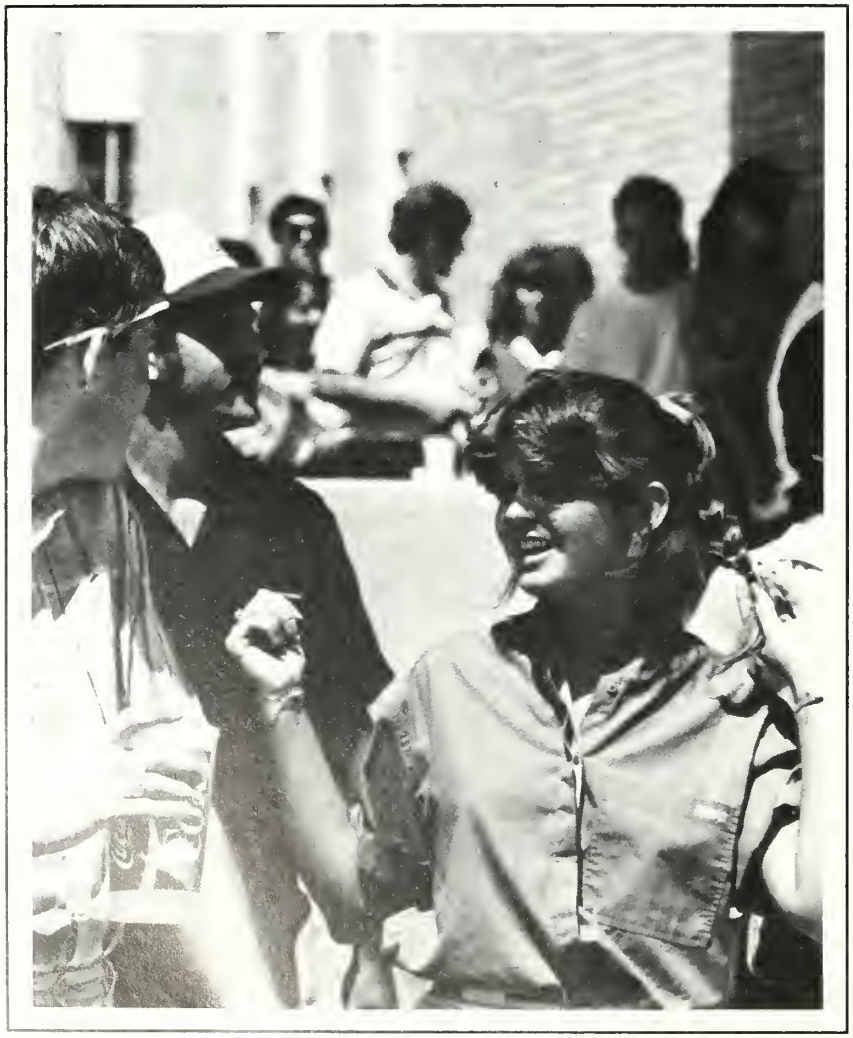

I m ready for you.

AT THE BEGINNING OF EACH SEMESTER,

Money can make people do funny things.

Standing in line gives you time to talk.

It also reminds us to take our yearbook picture.

THE WORDS 'FEES' AND 'LINES' BECOME ONE

I finally made it.

Every time a new semester fall around, the students dread it because of having to stay in line so long just to pay. However, there are a few tips around this. First get in line early, way early so you will much quicker to get out and have just a little bit of patience because it's not that easy having a thousand or so kids asking for their card.

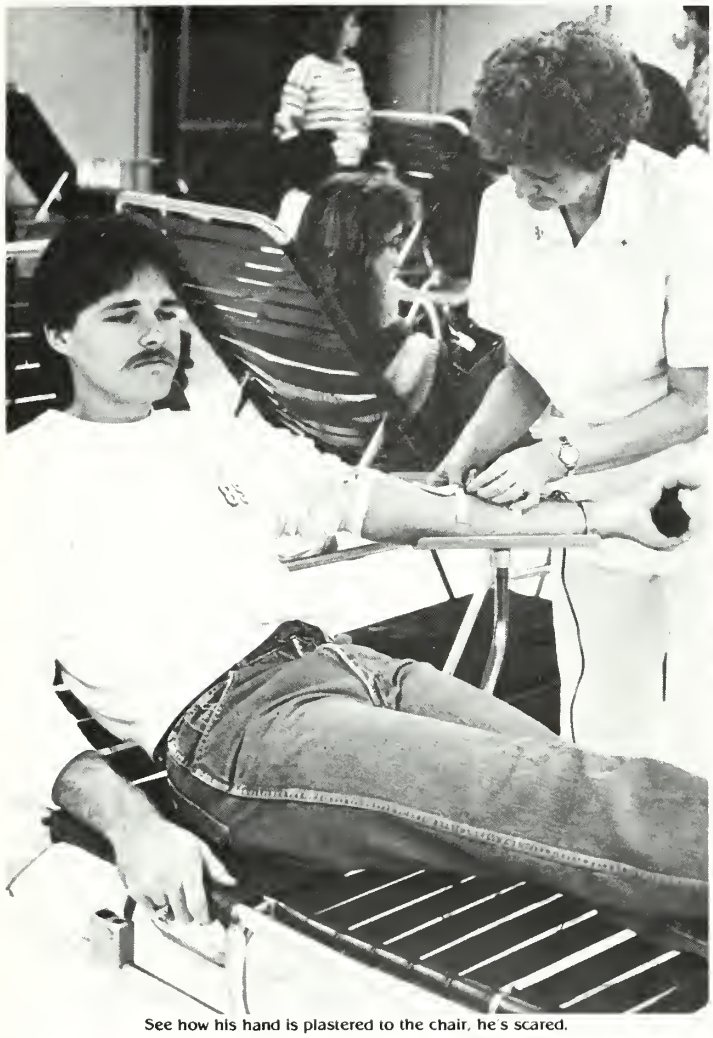

They keep coming, don't they?

Just think. You could be next!

TKE FRATERNITY GIVES ITS ANNUAL

See how his hand is plastered to the chair, he's scared.

"I started working here in . . ."

RED CROSS BLOOD DRIVE AT ASU

"Son you just gotta learn by experience."

"I'm coming, Elizabeth!"

Thinking about all the lives they're saving.

The Blood Drive was another success at ASU this year. Several hundred students gladly trooped down the corridors of the Reng Center to deposit some of their life source - blood. The actual process of giving blood may tend to erase some of the memories of being a good Samaritan, but they did not last long. After about a good night's sleep and plenty of liquids you'll be fine.

DESPITE PETTY CRITICISM, WOODLANDS

"Contrary to what they say, we love the Woodlands cafe."

Look at those folks chow down.

Service with skill.

Woodlands cafeteria in the Reng Center at ASU has been around for almost as long as the school itself. But for many incoming freshman it's a new experience, and the butt of their many jokes. Of course, one doesn't expect Mom's cooking because you surely won't get it. However, before one complains about anything, remember, never judge a man or anything for that matter, before you have walked a mile in his shoes. After that mile, your feet are probably killing you so much that you forgot what your complaint was. At any rate, the cafeteria does an excellent job of catering to the needs of over 3,000 students, day in and day out. Could you do that?

CAFETERIA "IS A GOOD PLACE TO EAT"

Back for seconds.

"Go on, what else?"

The manual dishwashers.

What a selection.

Service with a smirkey smile.

The Wigwam is the place for commuter students. They serve a wide variety of dishes, but stay true to their mexican entree's. Even at 6:30 in the morning this place is buzzing. Lunchtime is even more hectic. Students and faculty alike faithfully come day after day after day. It's another "good place to eat".

Having fun between classes.

"SLOW DANCE ON THE KILLING GROUND"

"Slow Dance on the Killing Ground" marked the directorial debut of Asst. Prof. of drama, Mr. Bobby Simpson. The play ran from Jan. 31-Feb. 1. The show was a complex play dealing with three characters immersed in their own mind-boggling problems. The show's leading character Randall manipulates the other two characters with his intelligent and biting sarcasm. By making the other two characters, Rosie and Mr. Glass, shed their problems it gives him time before he tells his story. It was a great night in the theatre and attempted to deal with a problem of ASU's drama department — there has never been a black in a leading role in a play until now. Kudos of praise go out to Simpson for his insight and initiative.

Make-up is applied to Randy Story before the show.

Sara takes a break.

"Gimme a gin and tonic — on the rocks."

"I dare you to blow out this match!"

MARK SIMPSON'S DIRECTORIAL DEBUT

"Work, work, work!"

"I'm so bad!"

ASU'S PHYSICAL PLANT COMES

Heading home.

Looking for gold.

Sharpening his tools

It's good when you have a repairman at home and even better if you have one on campus-many in fact. The Physical Plant has a full-time job keeping the campus neat and in good shape. Their duties range from picking up litter to repairing heaters and air-conditioners in the many buildings.

ASU PROFESSOR DESIGN ARKANSAS'

Literally, a work of art.

Prof. Roger Carlisle and his wife congratulated by ASU President Eugene Smith.

"Thanks so much for coming."

SESQUICENTENNIAL STAMP

Some talk politics during the reception, or they're trying to convince you that they are.

Dr. Smith takes a closer look at the stamp.

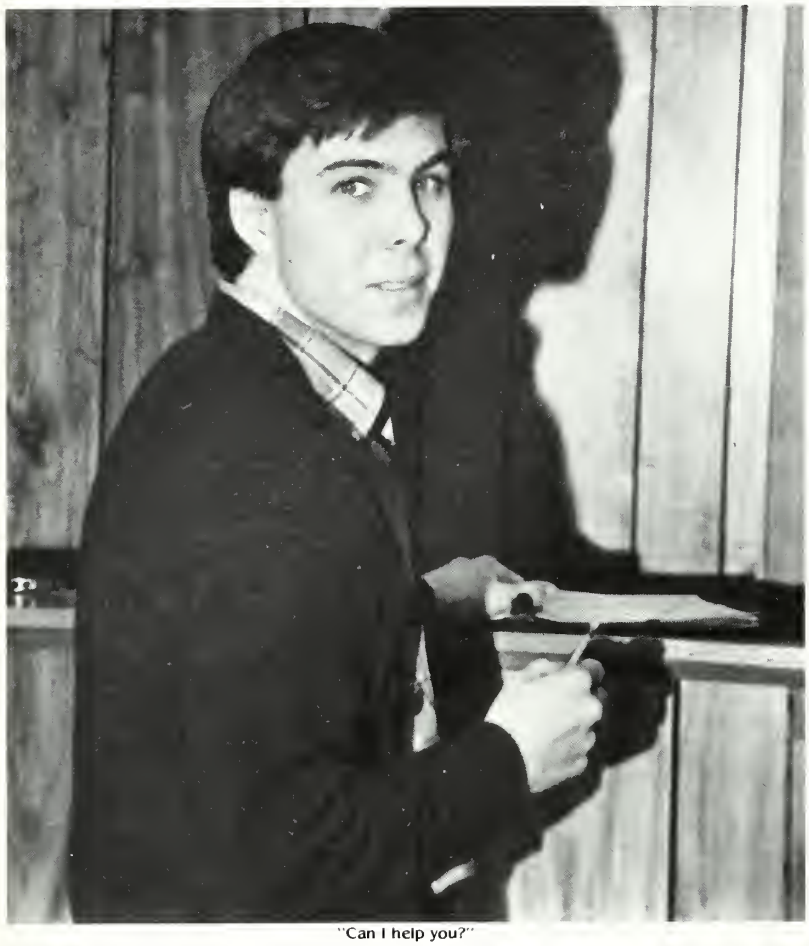

Discussing ASU's new honor.

And the final congratulation accepted.

Arkansas State University and the Craighead County Sesquicentennial Committee honored Roger Carlisle, Associate Professor of Art and his wife by having a tea in the Administration Building lobby on the ASU campus Jan. 21. As we all know, the reason for this was because Carlisle was the man behind the stamp that was part of a sesquicentennial effort by the state of Arkansas. He is the man whose design was chosen among several entries. By being the designer of the stamp, Carlisle holds two honors . It is also the first stamp to be issued in 1986, and that reception was held in Little Rock on Jan. 3. So you can see that "ASU is on a roll."

SGA AT WORK

"Can I help you?"

A grin is almost as good as a smile.

This year the SGA has broken the mold of being an organization just for the Greeks but instead have shifted their emphasis successfully to the students. Thanks to a dynamic staff headed by Carl Briggs the staff engineered a great homecoming celebration and reiterated the borrow-a-bike program. However, when it came to the SGA's infamous stance on mid-term grade reports being sent home, it was again unresolved. And I wonder who will have the coveted honor of being SGA president next year?

The president is always willing to help a fellow student.

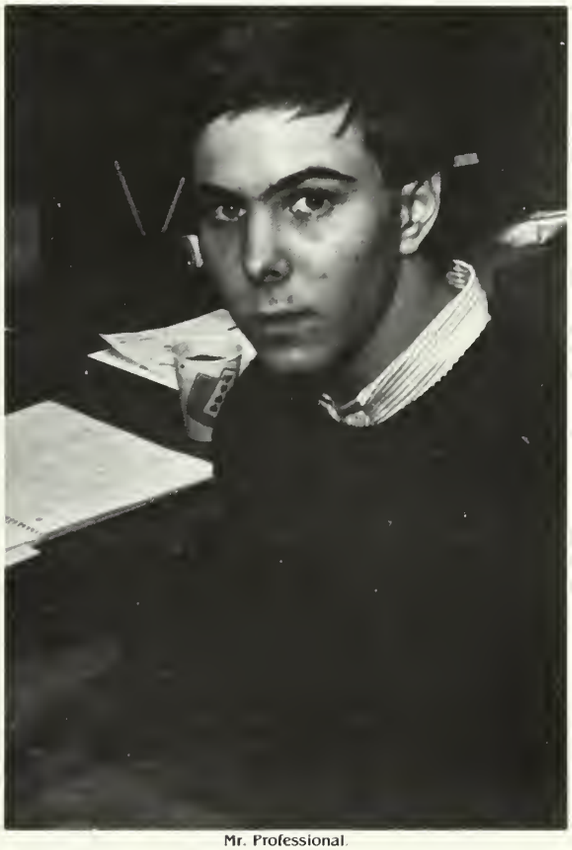

HELPING ASU STUDENTS

Almost all of the senators came for this meeting.

Al Capone and his four hit-men.

Mr. Professional.

THE DAIRY BARN - AN ASU RELIC

Never say "Fire!" in a crowded theatre.

The antique coming down.

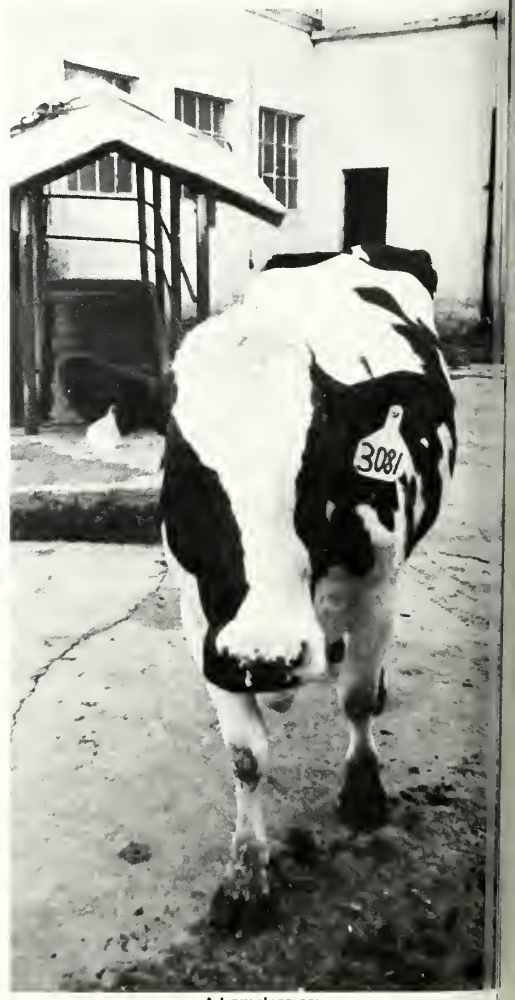

Before the fire.

Again, before the fire.

The Dairy Barn which had been a fixture at ASU since its inception, was destroyed by a fire in early February. The facilities, which are the agri students stomping ground was deemed "obsolete and antiquated" by a faculty spokesman. The barn will make way for a parking lot for the new Convocation Center. The new dairy barn will be a state-of-the-art and high-tech facility. This will give the agri students even more hands-on experience in the dynamic state of dairy product producing.

SIMPLY RAILROADS

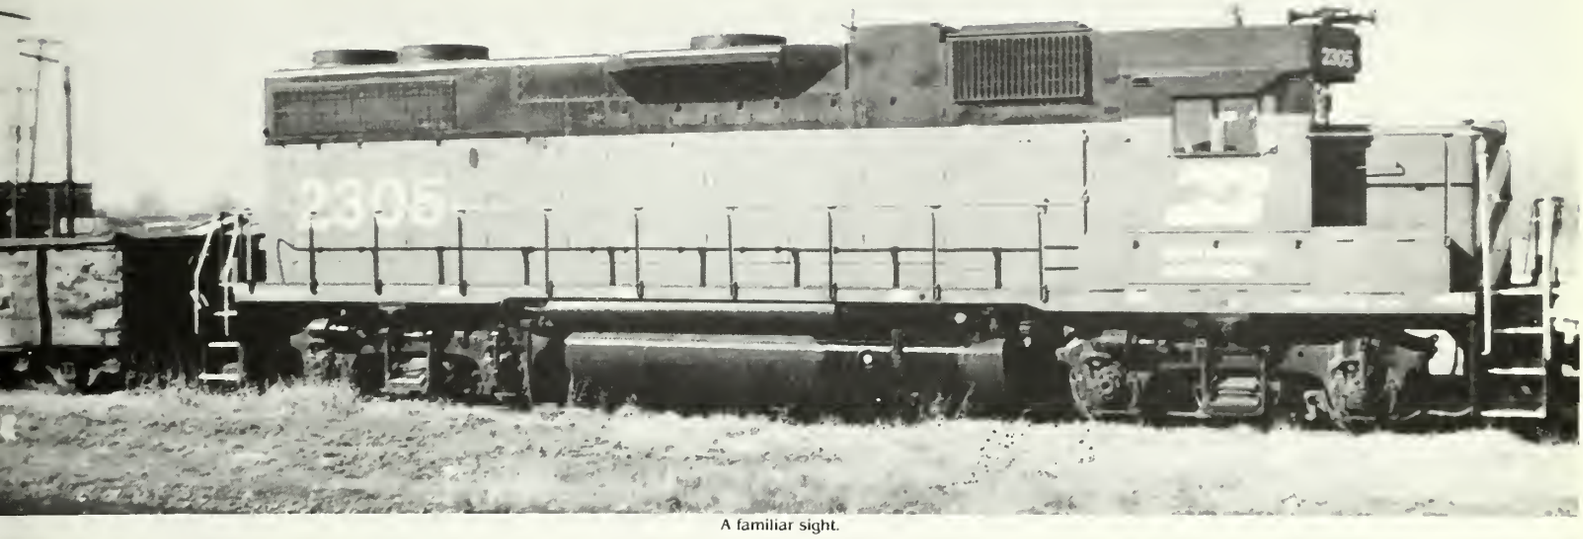

An aerial view of one of Jonesboro's many RR's.

Some look to the railroad as solitude . . .

Others view the RR as a tragic suicide aspect.

A familiar sight.

"You better move - move on outta my life".

The railroads are either things of beauty bringing the harsh realities of this mad world in perspective or the subject of curses by angry drivers in a hurry. They add a sense of nostalgia to Jonesboro with the beaten-up railroads give the viewer a memory of how it used to be.

A view from the bridge.

Moving cargo.

Dancing in the streets.

THE A-TEAM REFLECTS

The A-team is ASU's own Solid Gold dancers. The girls who compose the team get down in their leotards and reeboks. They provide halftime fun for the audience at all the home men's basketball games. These girls practice hard to polish their moves and it shows. Says A-Team member Debbie Burrow: "It was the best time in my college year - all the girls were like a family — we all had dreams of becoming Rockettes." Unfortunately girls, New York is a far cry from Jonesboro, so you might set your sights on becoming a member of the Jonesboro Follies. Good luck to you. (This is all in fun!)

Let's see those pearly whites!

Say cheese!

Being on the A-team requires much concentration.

Another flawless performance.

ASU CHEERLEADERS

These are all the hyper people at ASU who have found a good way to rid themselves of their nervous energy. They rant, rave, pound, jump, and scream with delight at the opponents of every ASU game. When ASU wins they are ecstatic. When they lose they are devastated. And this is their life. They live for these moments of carrying on ASU spirit. They are definitely on a roll. And so what if they weren't ranked in the top ten in cheerleading statistics? They are still number one in our book - but they know that too!

Is this posed or what?

Clap your hands.

Don't you dare drop me!

I'm so tired!

Don't drag me down!

We'll take you on!

Solid Gold comes to ASU.

Cheerleaders do the strangest things!

Raise your hands if you re sure.

Cheerleaders need a break too!

Another try at that cheer.

Cheering on the crowd.

Time to relax

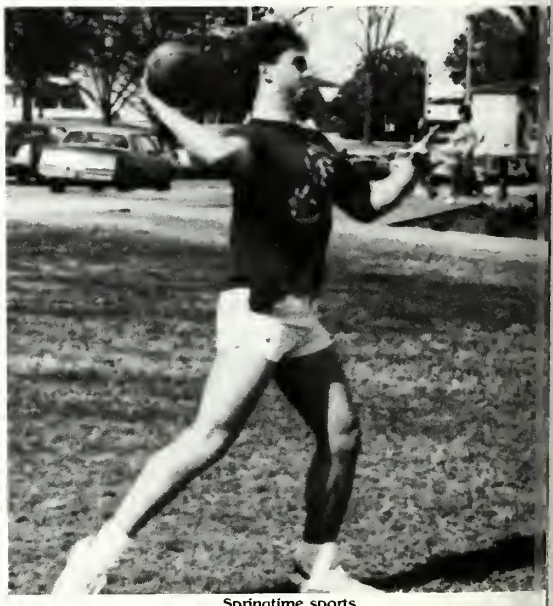

"We won!"

SPRING BRINGS OUT

Square pegs

All of a sudden it seemed that spring had come upon us. But it was still mid February. We were being tricked. Regardless of whether mother nature was playing tricks on us, ASU took full advantage of this early start on spring. Of course, it didn't last but what the hell. We enjoyed it anyway. The next weekend, when everyone was driving around in T-tops and convertibles a gusty wind of 40 made everyone shudder and put them back - until spring officially started.

INTERNATIONAL NIGHT IS

The exotic dancer begins to move.

Some native singing from a foreign land.

And some more native singing.

International Night was another success for ASU. It centers around the customs and traditions of many foreign students that attend ASU. The audience experiences an Arabian marriage, exotic dancing, and a variety of fine food for the palate. There was also a fashion show that highlighted Malaysian and Indian fashions. According to one faculty member, "it was an exhilarating tradition."

The audience all dressed in the native garments.

AN ANNUAL SUCCESS

SCUBA DIVING — A CLASS

"No running on deck!"

Talk about a tight fit!

Okay, all you Jacques Cousteau fans - here's a chance to try your knack at it. This is a place where you are free of seaweed, poisonous eels and other dangers of sea life. You get to do this in an olympic-size swimming pool at ASU. This is scuba diving class that always has a waiting list. The class meets once a week and gives the students a certified scuba diving license. Okay, now it's time to start treasurer hunting.

STUDENTS LEARNING

"Show me!"

Making it straight and narrow

Say what?

"You're crazy, that's not right?"

The surveying students are always around with their tripods gaining invaluable experience. They are the future Murphy's of the world. They may not have his laws but they have his style. We thought we'd just get them in action for a future reserve. Keeping on surveying they're doing a good job.

TO SURVEY OUR LAND

"What do you see?"

If you want a job done right, ask a women.

It must be precise.

"Oh, my aching back!"

A little to the left.

ART STUDENTS USE EVERY ASPECT

One thing about the art classes at ASU is that they are taught by some of the best art instructors in Arkansas. The instructors allow the students first-hand experience in every aspect. You might see an art class on the grounds while walking to class, sitting under a shaded area, intent upon their work. This is what it's all about - giving the students a real feel for their feelings they put on paper via the brushes and paint.

Looks good, mister.

KAPPA DELTA HOSTS ANNUAL WALK-A-THON

I thought this was supposed to be a walk-a-thon.

The Kappa Delta Sorority hosted its annual walk-a-thon in late September. The money that they raised went to a needy charity of their choice, and is one of the many philanthropic activities they do a year. They raised quite a bit of money.

"It's hot man!"

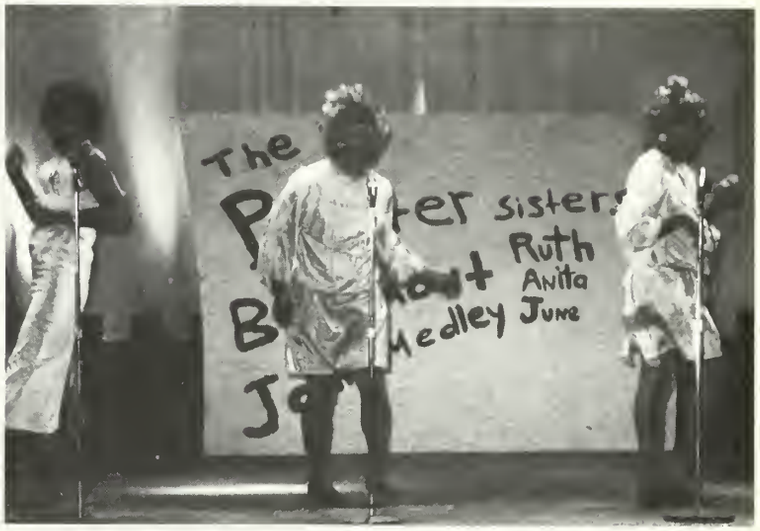

Well, gang lets get this show on the road.

ZETA PUTS ON ITS FOLLIES FARCE

What fashion taste and style that they have in shoes.

The Zeta Follies consists of a silly talent show that all fraternities and sororities on the ASU campus are encouraged to participate. The proceeds from this yearly event also goes to a charity of the sorority's choice, much like the KD walk-a-thon. And they say that all sororities just party.

I hope the real Pointer Sisters don t find out about this.

THE ALPHA GAMS WINS THIS YEAR'S

Looks exciting, huh?

The few ... the proud ... the "Mud Mommas". This year it was the Alpha Gams who came away as the Mud Momma Champions, but it was a close race as each sorority battled in the infamous Pi Kappa Alpha Li'l Olympics' mud pit. They began with the search of the firehat which the AOP's found again for the third consecutive year. Other events included the limbo competition which Alpha Gam won, the egg drop which the Kappa Deltas won, and the pyramid competition won by the Phi Mus. The most memorable event of the fall is the icky, oozing, mucky mud pit in which the relays took place. One by one, each girl vied to champion the mud pit, most unsuccessfully. Yes, the Pi Kappa Alpha Lil'l Olympics - a dirty job that somebody had to do.

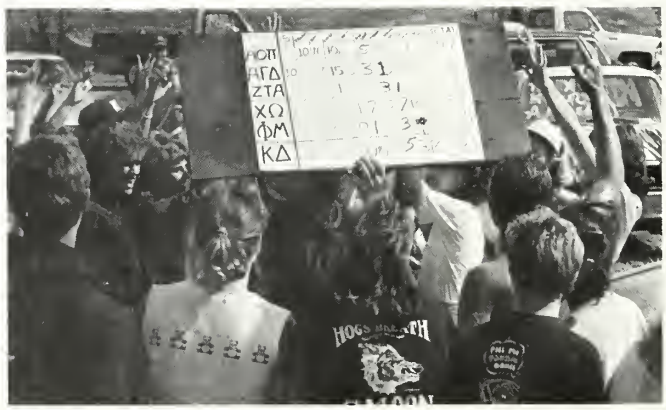

"I'm going to get that nut who put mud on me!"

"Mud Mommas? A new group?

Human inventiveness shines through.

... and the winner is.

PIKE LI'L OLYMPICS BY 9 POINTS

PIKE LI'L OLYMPICS PRESENTS ITS

Hi, I'm Chrissie.

Ms. Salvation Army.

Go back to reservation, baby.

While the girls wrestled in the muddy pit for the "Mud Momma" competition, most of the freshmen pledges for the fraternities on campus were donning make-up, stockings, and bargain dresses for parade of beauty. They were looking good - right, yeah, uh-uh.

Scrambling up to see who won the pageant.

YOU DON'T MISS AN OMEGA'S BBQ

Aren't they cute.

Cooling out.

Call all dogs - Q-dogs.

Uh-oh, it's Qdog time.

That food looks great

The Omega's threw their spring BBQ last semester, which turned out quite well. Meanwhile, the Alpha's as usual, having got back into the swing of things, and being the "men of distinction" have thrown their jammin', rappin', and rockin' dances that nobody seems to refuse to attend. Thanks for your help.

Flashing that smile

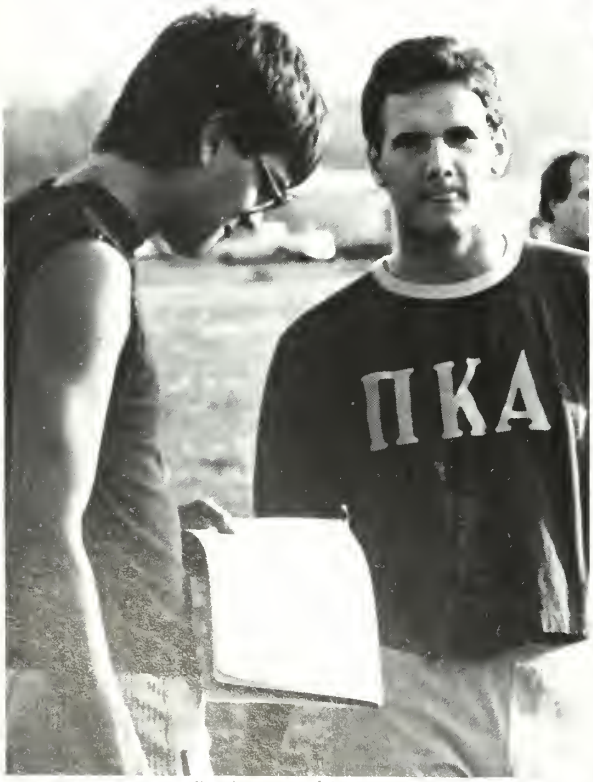

Stop gossiping.

TEKES WIN THEIR FINGERBOWL, WHILE

Teke's a winner.

Some teams strive to make it to the Super Bowl, but at Arkansas State the Greek teams hope to make it the Fingerbowl. This year the chosen opponents for the Teke team were the Sig Eps who failed to break "that winning tradition". In the game between the sororities, it was the Chi-O's who barely defeated the AOPi's. Although the AOPi's lost the game, they still managed to come away with the first place spirit trophies and in window decorating. The Alpha Gams took first place for donating the most money to the event.

Keeping score of the game.

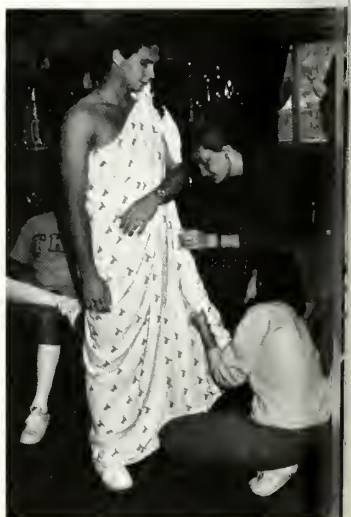

United Greeks?

I'm in a Diet Coke ad.

Another Helen of Troy.

THE CHI-O'S DEFEATED THE AOPI'S

A perfect match.

We see why the Chi-O's won.

Go, AOPi, Run with it.

The Nu Gam's are basically the football fraternity. All members are also on the ASU football team. So these are the rough guys in maroon and white. Watch out!

Nu Sigma Chi's raise a lot of spirit.

These guys work for a living.

The Nu Sigma Chi's are a relatively new fraternity on campus. They started the year out with a bang by celebrating "Derby Days". Currently they're in the process of becoming part of the Sigma Chi fraternity. Good Luck.

PHI MU

Phi Mu's show spirit at a pep rally.

The Phi Mu sorority uses the lion as their symbol. They sponsored the "Mr. Greek Adonis" contest this year which promises to become an annual event.

PHI BETA SIGMA

From left to right: Billy Bowles, Al Quarrels, Luther Jude, Gerald Cole, Kenneth Jones, and Mark Willis.

The Phi Beta Sigmas are the men in the blue and white. They are pretty good steppers and have won many awards for their expertise. One thing they do like is canes, and plenty of them.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

From left to right: First row: Tyler Thompson, Scott Graves, Marty Yates, Scott Adcock, Rob Wright, Bryan Lane, Jason Chandler, Donald Cates, Simmion Weir, Kevin Imboden, Kevin Parker, Newall Butcher, Kirk Williams, Coleman Dairy. Seventh row: Mark Wallace, Kevin Hopkins, Chris Wake, Rusty Chambers, and Mike Shores.

A Pike with egg on his face.

Don t harass me, I m not in the mood.

The Pike are known as the extremely preppy and "milk-and-cookie boys, but anybody who has gone to one of their parties will tell you different. The fraternity at ASU hosted their regional conference at ASU last spring which is the first they were able to host. Good luck on trying to get another one. But I heard it was g-o-o-o-o-o-o-o-d!

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

Sigma Phi Epsilon and their little sisters.

The AOPi's at a pajama drop-in with the Sig Eps.

The Sig EPs sponsor the annual "Fite Nite" each at ASU held in the fieldhouse each spring. But don't get them wrong - not all of them are fighters - they're more lovers if you ask them.

SIGMA PI

The Sigma Pi and Chi-O meet.

A candid picture.

What's he got that I don't have?

The Sigma Pi fraternity is one on campus that boasts its own apartment complex. They are a good group of guys who maintain a down-to-earth attitude on everything. The fraternity does a lot of charity work for several organizations in Jonesboro.

ZETA TAU ALPHA

The Zeta's are a serious group of women. All of them are smart and intellectural - but that doesn't mean they don't party. They throw an annual "White Violet Ball" every spring.

The Teke fraternity is the largest fraternity on campus. They were the second fraternity to move off campus in recent years. Even though everyone kids that the TKE fraternity is the easiest to become a pledge (Tau Kappa everybody) they have some helluva members.

MORE GREEK SPORTS

Must be some good water.

Somebody got the hint that they needed a bath.

More Derby Day photos.

MORE GREEK SPORTS

That's some good advertising.

Girls and their footballs.

Pull, man, pull.

NEW FRATERNITY, NU SIGMA CHI, HAS ITS

Some of the little sisters of Nu Sigma Chi.

Now they are embarrassed.

After this event, Derby Days, Nu Sigma Chi has been recognized as a major fraternity during rush week. It was colonized late last May and is currently in the process of becoming an official fraternity on the ASU campus. Derby Days, which is held nationally all over the country, consisted of a bed race, a mud toss, and an obstacle course among many other interesting games. It was yet another charity fundraiser.

The dreaded mud toss.

Watching one of the bed wrecks.

What's going on here?

FIRST ANNUAL DERBY DAYS CELEBRATION

A big brother and a little sis.

The old tug-o-warin action.

Let's hope they don't wreck.

"I think he's got it, chap."

Taking everything in.

"Fill her up with Bud.

"You're not getting me in that mud mess!"

MAY '85 MARKS THE FIRST ANNUAL

Everyone together? Unreal!

I wonder who's quicker.

In April of 1985 the IFC got together and decided to have an all-Greek Festival, including both black and white. As you can tell, it was a success. Let's sincerely hope that the blacks participate next year because this is truly a way to bring everyone together. Just like Sade sings on her first album "Diamond Life" "why can't we live together".

Panama Jack and his slack.

Having fun?

Row, row, row your boat . . .

Canoe race time - now this is fun.

Get out of my kitchen, man!

Mr. Bud himself.

ALL GREEK FESTIVAL

"Oh boy!"

After effects of a canoe trip.

Here we go.

"Oh, yeah?"

Splendor in the grass?

"We're gonna win it?"

I wonder where he is.

Here comes that sinking feeling.

YOUNG GREEKS

"You have the whitest teeth!"

"I was a poor Italian peasant girl."

"Me Tarzan - you Jane"!

IN LOVE

"Come on, let's dance!"

Woodstock remains in their lives.

Another frat trying to be cool.

When the Greeks weren't moaning about no composites in the yearbook this year, with the exception of a few, they found more exciting things to chat about.

Eileen's going to kill him.

"Be nice to your friends. If it wasn't for them, you'd be a total stranger."

WE'RE REALLY GLAD THIS

SPECIAL LADIES

Becky, I just want to say how wonderful you are. I know many times I must have gotten on your nerves with my scatterbrained antics. You're wonderful, truly. You were always there to help me out - remember when you banged the wall?

Jackie, I'm going to miss your notes everyday telling me that Tom needed to see me. You and your always pleasant disposition, you make me sick. Just kidding, you were a very big help, you helped keep Tom from killing me.

YEARBOOK IS FINISHED!

Eileen, you are a living doll! You're been an extremely sweet friend and confidante. Sounds sexy, huh? You kept my sanity from completely going away. Know what I mean?

"Paul, do whatever the hell you want to, I don't care."

WE'RE THE ONES BEHIND THIS

Joe French, assistant editor, and Michele King, one of our great photographers take time for a posed photo.

You think we'll win this year's Equal Opportunity Employer award?

BUT THE STAFF REALLY WORKED HARD

Photography: Dillon Watkins. Hair: J. Micheal's. Shoes: Hippotamus. Sweater: Boston Traders. Shirt: Calvin Klein. Shorts: Generra. Socks: Boston Traders. Model: M.S. Train furnished by Cotton Belt.

"Mark, remember when you laughed out loud in Dr. Fowler's class? That was so funny."

Ellen takes a break.

EDITOR'S NOTE:

It is now 5:50 a.m., March 3, 1986 and I am finishing up the last pages of this year's yearbook and I am about to burst with glee. It has been a long, lon long year. I sincerely hope that this yearbook will be a good one and you in your later years will look back upon it and relive your college experience. You se I helped make it. Just kidding, most of my friends already know my dry humor. Before I go on, let me thank some very special people who have helped me cling to my sanity. My mother and stepfather who I bitched to every weekend about my yearbook woes, and my wonderful grandmother who has more sens than I do in her little thumb. Tom Manning, you are too much. I know that I gave you a year's worth of ulcer, but it's over. You're just a one-in-a-million gu Jackie and Becky, you know how I feel about you all. And don't let me forget my right-hand man, Joe. I can't believe you actually stayed up with me and worke on everybody else's pages but our own. I told you this before, and I'll tell you again, I am truly indebted to you for the rest of my life. You're a great friend. T my other best buddy, John Allen, who happens to be sitting by the typewriter as I type out this legacy. Again, there goes my humor. One thing about the caption please do not bring a libel suit against me. They were done in fun. I hope you like them. Debbie, baby, my sweet baby, thanks for the release of tension at Cahoots. That was my second home. God! Who do I have to thank now? Oh!, my editors, that's who. Thanks so much for your diligent and effortless work. Yo really made this a real experience. But seriously, folks, like the picture says: I'm gone. It's been fun. P.S. I feel like I've been running up that hill in between da with my cities in dust like Tarzan Boy riding in a black car touching roses and I realize I can't get there from here and still I wonder how to be a millionaire wi love and pride in this world of destruction . . . See how delirious I am, it's 6:00 in the morning and I'm exhausted and hungry and me and John Allen, Debbi Leigh Ann, Paul, and Denise are going to Larry's and 'N Cahoots tonite for Modern Music night.
